

Tuesday 11 June | St Barnabas

Today is Tuesday the 11 June, the feast of St Barnabas, in the Tenth Week of Ordinary Time.

Maximillian sings, ?Learning to Love Like You.?

Today?s reading is from the Gospel of Matthew

Jesus is saying to you, ?You are the light of the world.? He?s not talking about himself here, but about you! And he invites you to ?let your light shine?. Why? ?to give glory to your Father in heaven?. Take a moment to think of what might be coming up in the day ahead and imagine yourself dealing with those events, living this day, in a way that would give glory to God.

Do you think you would approach your life differently if you heard ? every morning - Christ?s invitation to ?let your light shine?? How would it be different?

Now as you listen to the gospel again, hear Christ?s words addressed to you in the situation you?re living in right now.

Speak to the Lord now about the day ahead, and your hopes for it. Speak to him about whatever questions or desires have arisen in your heart.
